Features of the local area
Bossley Park is a cosmopolitan and multicultural suburb in south-western Sydney. The area has many bus routes. A major regional shopping centre, Western Sydney Regional Park and Club Marconi (a local football club) are nearby. It is a modern, open-plan area with parklands and sporting and recreational facilities.

“My personal experience at BPHS was really nice. Through the weeks I studied here, I made friends and met lots of different people. The teachers and staff were really nice. The experiences will live with me forever.”

“The school in Australia is different from schools at home. I would never have imagined that I now have friends from different parts of the world and all people are nice and friendly, as well as the teachers. I am really grateful to BPHS for giving me the great opportunity to practise my English and increase my knowledge about this amazing language.”
